Good morning Lisa,

We received comments to the IS from BOE on Friday, which are being addressed.

We understand that Planning will also be incorporating comments to the document. We would like to review any comments by EOB Tuesday if possible, so that we can address any final questions or concerns prior to or during our meeting Wednesday. Would you be able to inform us as to when the Planning Department expects to send comments?

Hi Marvin -

I understand the tunneling company submitted a design layout package a couple weeks ago. They have been trying to get some feedback and approval but haven't gotten a response.

Any chance you can check in with your staff?

Thanks

Hi Nick,

I'm hoping to see you in attendance at today's meeting, which reminded of the fact that I haven't yet followed up with you about taking a tour at our site! Typically, we bring people through SpaceX first (a successful example of our general business model), then through The Boring Company's site.

We'd love to have you and anyone else from your team attend. If you're interested, please let me know a time/ date, either via email or in person this afternoon, that works well for you and your group and we can set it up.

Thanks for your continued consideration.

Subject: LA Shaft Permit summary

Steve,

We need the following 5 things to get a permit to dig the shaft:

1. Soils Report Approval (LADBS Grading Division). This is going well. We should be approved in 5-6 weeks.
2. Environmental Assessment Form (EAF) Approval (City Planning) This is not going well. The planning rep at the counter yesterday told me we would need to wait 3-5 months for review, and that it cannot start until the soils report is approved, which would place it at 4-6 months.
3. Haul route hearing (LADBS Board of Building and Safety) This is going well. This is contingent on approval of the soils report and EAF. Otherwise, we could be scheduled in 3-5 weeks.
4. Demolition permit (LADBS Building Dept) This is going well. We should be able to begin demo by 4/1.
5. Shoring Permit (LADBS) We should be submitting next week. This is contingent upon soils report and haul route approval.

April 17, 2018

Elon Musk, Founder and CEO
Attn: Steve Davis
Sam Teller
The Boring Company
Hawthorne, California

Elon
Mr. Musk,

The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) has appreciated the discussions our staff has had with you and your staff on our shared vision to revolutionize transportation in Los Angeles County. We would like to continue this partnership, especially as it relates to your interest in building a proof of concept tunnel under Sepulveda Boulevard.

As you know, Metro is conducting an environmental study process on the Sepulveda Transit Corridor project that was approved by LA County voters in November 2016 as part of the Measure M sales tax measure. Metro is interested in discussing any engineering thus far by The Boring Company for your tunnel project to ensure that your project doesn't interfere with our Sepulveda project.

We are aware of your request to the City of Los Angeles for an excavation permit for construction of the tunnel. It's important for you to know that based on Metro's legal authority through state law (Public Utilities Code section 130252(a)), all plans proposed for the design, construction, and implementation of public mass transit systems or projects in Los Angeles County must be submitted to Metro for approval. I suggest that Metro and The Boring Company commit to cooperating through our respective planning and engineering efforts to ensure that our projects are compatible.

It is our belief that our efforts at delivering transportation innovation across the region can be best optimized through a continued partnership. We would like to meet with you and your staff as soon as possible so that we can better understand our respective goals and how our projects can best meet the needs of the people of Los Angeles County.

Please let me know when your team is available for a meeting.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Phillip A. Washington
Chief Executive Officer

Thank you for the introduction, Chun. (Moving you to Bcc.)

Dr. Gipson - As Chun mentioned, I'm reaching out on behalf of The Boring Company. We are a tunneling company founded by Elon Musk seeking to end the problem of traffic by building a zero-emissions, underground public transportation system. We are interested in inviting students focused on STEM to visit our Hawthorne research and development facility.

This would include a private tour of The Boring Company and a quick visit of the Hyperloop Test Track. Would you, or someone in your office, have 5-10 minutes to briefly discuss? Thank you in advance for your time.

Hi Justin,

Thanks for the note. While it is difficult to predict ridership, I would recommend sizing any CONRAC land as to what is needed to accommodate a baggage tunnel out of CONRAC to the airport – that alone would be useful if a people-spur is then built in.

Hi Steve,

Here are some updates on the two action items:

- 1) Phase 1 – LAWA is waiting for feedback from The Boring Company regarding the volume of passengers and frequency of skates that would come to ITF East so that LAWA can determine logistics for an operation there
- 2) LAWA is discussing and planning internally the details regarding how the bag tunnels would operate in preparation for an RFP.

Please let me know if you want to discuss further.

Thanks and best regards,

Justin

Dear Elon - I hope this note finds you well. I am Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti's transportation director. The purpose of this note is to ask and see if you would be interested in partnering with the City, Los Angeles Metro and an academic institution (UCLA, USC) to study and explore a test bed for driverless vehicles.

You probably already know well that Mayor Garcetti is very much interested in this topic. He agrees with the concept of driverless vehicles and coming up with some sort of test bed would be ideal to further this endeavor.

Let me know if you there is an opportunity to further discuss this effort and go over a few ideas we are currently chewing on.

Always the best,

Borja Leon, P.E.
